Dishwashing Detergent by soybeans extracted

SoyMagic is a pollutant-free botanic cleanser / degreaser / detergent, the main substance of which is extracted from soybeans.

SoyClean (SoyMagic) --a water-soluble natural detergent made from soybean extracts--has patents pending in many countries of the world (PCT / KR02 / 01990) , and its the worlds first colloid cleanser / degreaser / detergent that works by Colloid Molecular Movement, or Brownian Movement.

SoyClean (SoyMagic) is specially formulated to replace conventional solvent based alkaline cleansers and detergents, and is free of materials and chemicals hazardous to humans and the environment like inorganic compounds (caustic soda, sulphonates, phosphates, and others) and organic compounds (solvents and thinners, for instance) which can cause skin allergies and irritation to humans but is also a secondary polluter of the environment.

Unlike conventional cleansers and detergents, SoyClean (SoyMagic) is almost foamless. The physical properties of SoyClean (SoyMagic) are close to oil, but the cleanser is still easily soluble in water and is 100% biodegradable.

SoyClean (SoyMagic) has excellent degreasing and cleansing ability, and can be used in a wide range of cleaning operations around the house and beyond
